GENERAL PRINCIPLES ON ACCREDITATION OF NGO REPRESENTATIVES

(more information on our web site: www.un.org/esa/coordination/ngo)

1 – NGOs in consultative status with ECOSOC may designate persons to represent them at offices of the United Nations. Designations must be made only by the Chief Administrative Officer or highest elected officers of the Organization. Representatives may be appointed to the UN Headquarters in New York, Geneva and Vienna, as well as the five regional commissions.

2 – The accreditation form herewith attached must be returned to all the NGO Section/Liaison offices even if no changes need to be reported in the accreditation form submitted the previous year. The addresses of the NGO offices are:

3 – To facilitate access to United Nations buildings, passes may be issued to designated representatives. These passes are restricted to persons who will be representing your organization at meetings or who will consult on your behalf with secretariat and government representatives at the United Nations, i.e. persons who will speak and act on behalf of your organization.

4 – Passes are issued for one year only, and they are valid from the day they are issued until the end of that year. Designated representatives must appear in person to obtain their passes (with a valid photo ID card) from the Pass and Security Office in accordance with the procedure established at each UN site. There are no deadlines. This may be done at the first convenient opportunity or while attending a meeting.

Practical arrangements

5 – In view of security requirements in New York, the rapidly increasing number of NGOs and the space limitations at the United Nations Headquarters, the number of representatives per NGO is currently limited to 5 in New York, 5 in Geneva and 5 in Vienna, in addition to the Chief Administrative Officer and the President or Chief Executive Officer (two additional passes).

6 – If a designated representative holding a current pass leaves your organization, the organization must notify the corresponding United Nations office in writing and return his/her pass there. Requests for replacement of lost passes must also be done in writing, allowing enough time for us to notify security and authorize the issuance of a new pass.

7 – Any changes in your officers/representatives, address, fax or telephone number, etc. are to be communicated in writing to each UN Office. Please use a new copy of the attached forms for submitting any changes. The new updated form will simply replace the old one. The form is always available for download at the NGO Section web site:

www.un.org/esa/coordination/ngo

8 – Upon request, temporary passes to attend a specific meeting focusing on economic and social matters will be issued only for the duration of the meeting. Such requests must be submitted in writing specifying the activities in which these additional representatives will be involved. The letter, in letterhead, must be signed by one of the persons signing this form.

9 – The NGO Section/Liaison Officers will not honor requests for passes from the main representatives unless he/she has been authorized to do so by their NGO in the forms herewith attached.

10 – The forms herewith attached must be typed or printed legibly. Copies of the completed form must be sent to the NGO offices in New York, Geneva and Vienna. Copies of the form must also be sent to each designated representative. To obtain his/her pass, a representative must follow the procedure established at each United Nations office. Failure to follow this procedure will result in delays in acquiring the passes. Designated representatives must ensure that they have a copy of the Designation of Representatives for 2006 form with their name on it at the time they retrieve the pass.

New York, 21 July 2006

Dear Mr. Francisco Valdes,

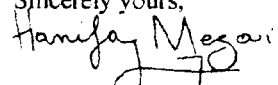

We would like to inform you that the Economic and Social Council, at its Substantive Session of July 2006, decided to grant Special consultative status to the organization "LatCrit"

The organization may now designate official representatives to the United Nations - to the United Nations Headquarters in New York and the United Nations offices in Geneva and Vienna. Designated representatives can pick up their passes in person at the designated site. Needless to say, the regular presence of your organization will allow your organization to implement effectively and fruitfully the provisions for this consultative relationship. The form for designating representatives can be downloaded from our web site: www.un.org/esa/coordination/ngo

Please note, in particular, Parts II, IV, V and VII of the Council Resolution 1996/31, describing the procedures for carrying out your consultative relationship with the Council. Also, kindly note Part IX, paragraph 61c which requests that organizations in General and Special consultative status submit quadrennial reports on their activities. Your first report covering the period 2006-2009 should be submitted to the Committee in 2010. You will be advised of the modalities for completing your report in due course. Meanwhile, we suggest that you maintain detailed records of your activities.

The United Nations issues a calendar of meetings and conferences, which can be obtained by your representatives at the United Nations sites. Every year, you will receive from this office the "Calendar of United Nations meetings open to participation by or of special interest to NGOs in consultative status". The latest copy of the calendar and other NGO-related information can also be found on our web site.

Finally, should you wish to indicate your status with the United Nations on your letterhead, please use the following wording: "NGO in Special Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations". The United Nations emblem may not be used, unless express approval has been granted by the Legal Office of the United Nations. This is neither granted for stationery use, nor for any printed materials describing your organization. We look forward to a productive relationship with your organization and its representatives.

Sincerely yours,

 Hanifa Mezoui, Chief
